Gov. "Bob" Taylor Will Appear at Louisa.

Tennessee's Most Honored Son and One of America's Greatest Platform Speakers Coming Here.

The most famous orator, the most popular lecturer and public speaker most in demand by the American public today will make his appearance before a Louisa audience on Thursday evening, June 16. This orator, lecturer, speaker,—this man whose fame is international in extent, is Governor Robert Taylor, United States Senator from Tennessee. He is popularly known as "Bob" Taylor, and he is today in many respects one of the most picturesque figures in the public eye. Senator Taylor does not owe his fame to accident. He won it, and the beginning of the achievement was the unparalleled campaign he made when he was a candidate for Governor of Tennessee. No other campaign ever made by anybody, anywhere or for anything approached within a thousand miles of it. He was the Democratic candidate, his brother was the nominee of the Republicans, and to further complicate and make the thing more unique, the Prohibitionists put up the father of the boys to beat his sons. Such a campaign was never seen before. Not a harsh word was spoken by any one of the candidates of any one of the others. "Bob" was triumphantly elected, his father and his brother being as glad as anybody else. He made a good Governor, and from the gubernatorial chair he went to the Senate of the United States, where he ably and worthily represents the old home state of Andrew Jackson. Senator Taylor was, before he gained such wide distinction, known simply as Fiddling Bob Taylor, and it is said that his skill in drawing music from the intestines of a cat by rubbing them with the hair from a horse's tail was a mighty factor for good when he was asking his fellow citizens to make him Governor. He surely played the fiddle and he undoubtedly played it well. Governor Taylor has dozens of lectures, all of surpassing excellence, and he is "at home" with any of them. One of his best is called The Fiddle and The Bow, and it is not at all unlikely that this will be the one with which he will favor us. The Fiddle and The Bow is said to be one of the most wonderful pieces of word painting ever heard on a lecture platform, but if the Governor sees fit to give us something else it will be something just as good.

As the NEWS said last week this lecture has been secured in the interest of the Kentucky Normal College. Governor Taylor comes to Louisa and will deliver his lecture as a freewill offering to the college. This magnificent gift is equivalent to giving the college five hundred dollars, for whenever he delivers a lecture at all he gets this amount, often more, as his price, and under no circumstances is less than one dollar charged for hearing it. For this occasion the price of admission has been placed at fifty cents, and it is desired and expected that at this exceptionally low rate the big auditorium of the college will be filled to its utmost capacity. There will be a platform put up, and the room will have comfortable chairs for a record breaking audience.

Just a word on this point: Many people have the idea that all "lectures" are on some dry, technical subject, all facts and figures, statistics and such. Please remember that "Bob" Taylor's lecture will be nothing of the kind. Great crowds of people from all the walks of life go to hear him, and once going they go again.

The NEWS hopes to be able in its next issue to announce the subject of Governor Taylor's lecture, and to give all necessary information regarding his appearance.

A Lawrence County Teacher.

The Olive Hill Graded School closed last Friday after a very successful term under the principalship of E. L. Swetnam, and as proof of his satisfactory management of the school, Mr. Swetnam was re-elected as principal for the next term at the recent school election.

Mr. Swetnam left for Lawrence county this week, where he will remain for a short time. He will then go to Valparaiso, Ind., to attend school.—Olive Hill Times.

Resigns From Chairmanship.

It was a great pleasure to greet our Club president in her accustomed place and very gratifying to know that though Miss Katherine Freese resigns from the chairmanship of the Department of Music, she will still be associated with its work, and will continue in Ashland under her present class engagements, which continue to make increasing demands upon her time.—Ashland Independent.

Protracted Meeting at Van Lear.

The Rev. Mr. Black, of the M. E. church, South, Fort G., was engaged in a very good revival meeting at Van Lear last week. There had been some conversions and several accessions. Mr. Black was compelled to leave the meeting, but the Rev. Mr. Slaughter, of Paintsville, continued the services.

HOME TALENT PLAY.

Young People Gave a Creditable Performance at Eldorado.

The NEWS doubts if any other town of the same size can produce as many good amateur actors as Louisa has. On many and various occasions our young people, of both sexes, have shown that they are very much at home in comedy, melodrama and tragedy, and in several instances they have shown merit and talent far better than much which has been displayed by so called professionals.

The latest public appearance of any of these young people upon the stage, was in the presentation of the comedy-drama of "Joe, the Wal; or, The Pet of the Camp," at Eldorado theatre on last Friday and Saturday evenings. The cosy auditorium was well filled on both occasions, and the applause called forth by the efforts of the young men and girls in the various roles was abundant and hearty. The story was that of a girl, Joe, who, as a waif, drifted into a lumber camp away off Down East, and who soon became its pet. She was adopted by a rich man who proved to be her uncle, and who endows her with much worldly goods, together with an education. Joe marries the lover and champion of her early days, and all ends happily for everybody but "Mrs. Roberts" and her son. The action and development of the play are well assisted by the various players, including two colored servants who make no end of fun for the audience. One or two semi-tragic features furnish sufficient excitement during the performance. In fact at one time nearly all the characters lay in a heap on the stage, stricken by bullets, but the "wounds" did not inflict mortal injuries, and when the curtain rose on the next act all bubbled up serenely, slightly marked, but able for duty. "Adonis" and "Patsy," the two dark ones of the cast, with an amusing song, and a biograph called "A Corner in What" made a fitting close for a pleasant evening. The following is the cast of the play as given:

Cast of Characters.

Emanuel Roberts, a merchant, Jack Banfield.
Rudolph Ferguson, Robert's stepson, Dana O'Neal.
Harry Metcalf, Foreman of the Camp, A. T. Swenson, Jr.
Adonis, Joe's colored friend, John Wade.
Pollyman, Jack Banfield.
Stella, Robert's wife, Miss Willie Byington.
Joe, a waif, Miss Bess Byington.
Patsy, a servant, Miss Jean Spencer.

Prominent Physician to be Married.

Director of Service Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Howell, of South Sixth street, are in receipt of an invitation from Mr. and Mrs. Fred Donta, of Van Lear, Ky., requesting their presence at the marriage of their daughter, Miss Mary Julia Donta, to Dr. J. P. Wells, on Thursday, June 16, 1910, at 10 o'clock the ceremony to be pronounced by Rev. Howerton, pastor of the Lorain Street Baptist church of this city, says the Ironton Irononian.

The bride is the charming daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donta, who were formerly esteemed residents of this city, residing at 487 South Second street, before moving to Peach Orchard, Ky., and later to Van Lear. While living here, the intended bride was a student in our high school, and with her parents, consistent members of the Lorain Street Baptist church.

Dr. Wells is mine physician at Meek, Johnson county, and well and favorably known along the Big Sandy.

Trains Delayed.

By a freight wreck on this division of the C. and O. trains from Louisa were delayed several hours Thursday morning. About midnight Wednesday night the famous Bull Dog coal train, a double-header, skipped from the track at the east end of the Sandy bridge near Walbridge, whereby several cars were derailed and much damage was done to the floor of the bridge. The services of the Ashland wrecking crew were required and several hours were occupied in getting the track in order. No. 36 from Ashland was laid up here and 37 from Pikeville gave its passengers an opportunity for observing the picturesque surroundings of Walbridge. No one was injured in the wreck.

The Oil Development.

The well on Vinson branch, six or seven miles southeast of Louisa, was drilled in Tuesday of this week and is reported to be dry. The company is composed chiefly of Huntington people.

The result of the well on the Garred place eight miles southwest of Louisa, is being kept from the public. This well belongs to the Guyan Oil company.

Two more wells in this field should be completed within a week.

The Guyan company has bought a considerable acreage of leases recently. One large boundary was taken over this week.

It is reported that another well will be started in this vicinity about the 15th instant.

Death of a Pioneer.

Mayking, Ky., May 28.—In the death here Thursday of Aunt Sally Webb Adams, aged 86 years, Eastern Kentucky loses one of her best loved old women, and the remarkable old Webb family, known for years as a family of great longevity, is reduced to only two members, Uncle Willy Webb, aged 84, and Uncle Miles Webb, aged 88 years. They are descendants of Daniel Boone, the Kentucky pioneer, their father, Benjamin Webb, being a first cousin of the pioneer hunter.

Numerous descendants and kin of Mrs. Webb live in this county.

Council Meeting.

The next regular meeting of the city council will be held next Tuesday night. The attention of council is called to the fact that while people do not now use the crossings near lower Lady Washington street, preferring the smoother street muddy weather will be here next winter.

GREAT MEETING.

World's Sunday School Convention at Washington.

Report of the Greatest Religious Gathering Ever Assembled in the World.

The Louisa delegates and visitors to the World's Sunday School Convention at Washington have returned. They are loud and unanimous in their praise of the big meeting and regret neither the time nor the money spent in attending a gathering which has passed into history as the grandest meeting of the kind ever held in America.

Unprecedented for its cosmopolitanism, unequaled in the magnitude of its constituency, and unsurpassed as a spectacle, the World's Sixth Sunday School Convention in Washington, D. C., May 19-24, marks an event in religious history.

President Taft was not alone in expressing amazement over the size and character of the Convention. He looked out over a sea of six thousand faces on the opening night, while outside the Convention Hall a still larger number of persons congregated, unable to enter. Nearly twenty-five hundred of the official delegates wore red ribbon badges with the legend "North America."

Some five hundred others wore blue badges bearing the names of more than fifty different nations, as remote as China and South America, Turkey and Australia. In addition to these three thousand official and representative delegates from every State and province in the United States and Canada and from foreign lands, there were about seven thousand and unofficial delegates or visitors. Sometimes three and four simultaneous Convention sessions were inadequate to hold the throngs.

It was a spectacular Convention. The great Men's Bible Class Parade on the afternoon of May 20, opened the eyes of Washington to the virility and masculinity of modern religion. In order that some members of Congress might march in the parade, as they did, and that others might witness it, Congress adjourned early on the day of the demonstration. Torrential rains immediately preceded and followed the parade, largely reducing the ranks; nevertheless five thousand men in a bannered procession a mile long marched down Pennsylvania Avenue, and were reviewed at the Capitol by a throng of ten thousand persons.

All these marching men belong to the Sunday School, and the thought uppermost in the minds of many of the spectators who lined the sidewalks was expressed on one banner. "Where the men lead the boys will follow." Another spectacular feature of the Convention was a great open-air gathering on the east steps of the Capitol, when a multitude of people joined in the singing of Christian hymns.

The demonstration accorded President and Mrs. Taft—whom the former introduced to the cheering throng as "the real President"—stirred the nation's Chief Executive greatly. He declared his belief in the fundamental importance of religious training of the youth of the nation through the Sunday School.

The Convention sat with a monster map of the world before its eyes. The official button showed the globe with a red cross superimposed thereupon. Part of each day was given to a "Roll Call of Nations." The ends of the earth came together at Washington.

On the closing night of the Convention there was a tableau of seventy-five children reproducing the picture which this Convention has made famous: "The Twentieth Century Crusaders." The children of many nations gathered under the Sunday-School flag. At the same time delegates from many lands—Korea, China, India, Japan, Mexico, Brazil, Turkey, etc.—gathered on the front of the platform and all sang together to the one tune, but each in his own tongue, one of the familiar Christian hymns that is sung the world around.

The statistics of the Convention were presented at this time, the flag of each nation being added to a display stand as the figures from that land were given. The total showing is 27,888,479 members, of whom above 16,000,000 are found in the United States and Canada. This includes 2,500,000 officers and teachers; the number of schools reported being 285,842. All ages from octogenarians and other adults by the million to infants on the cradle roll and in the kindergarten department are now found in the Sunday School. This vast company is scattered over the inhabitable globe, the increase in non-Christian lands being especially noteworthy.

The wide-spread observance of World's Sunday School Day, in more than two hundred languages and dialects, as reported to the Convention by cables from various lands, was a real missionary factor. Literally thousands of sermons upon the religious training of youth seem to have been preached upon that day.

For the first time in its history the World's Association tried to raise a budget for the expenses of the ensuing triennium. The sum asked for, $75,000.00, was all secured in a few hours. This will be used largely in placing field workers in foreign lands to develop the (Continued on page five.)

THE MARRIAGE MARKET.

Some of the Events of the Week in this Interesting Realm.

The Louisa marriage market was active on Wednesday to the extent of two weddings and a back out. In both instances the high contracting parties were from different states, a bride and a groom were from Kentucky and a groom and a bride from Virginia.

Mr. Charles Kinney, of Camron, Ky., and Mrs. Eliza Merrick, a very handsome woman from Nolan, W. Va., entered the court house during the afternoon and obtained the necessary legal instrument authorizing marriage, and summoning County Judge Boggs they were by him duly made man and wife.

Early Wednesday morning Mr. Wil Hutchinson, of Huntington, W. Va., procured a license to marry Miss Ida Smith of this city. The parties then went to the residence of the Rev. Dr. Hanford, pastor of the M. E. church, and were by him united in marriage. Mr. and Mrs. Hutchinson are now at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Branham, but will leave Saturday for Huntington, where they will reside.

Mrs. Hutchinson is a good looking young lady, well known in Louisa and popular in a large circle of friends.

The groom is a son of George Hutchinson, of Huntington, and a grandson of the late Col. William Vinson.

Contest Cases Appealed.

Boyd county candidates who were defeated last November are dying hard, as witness a Frankfort telegram:

Frankfort, Ky., May 27.—Kentucky Court of Appeals. Present: Eastern division sitting.

Scott vs. York, Stewart vs. Wurts, Lawrence vs. Hughes, Horrocks vs. Calvin, Boyd, appellant filed affidavit, statement and motion to docket advance and for oral argument; motion for subpoena duces tecum and to hear said cases together upon one copy of depositions and evidence to be used in all cases; appellee objects and files motion to dismiss each of said appeals and to quash bonds which motions are submitted.

The Capitol.

The magnificent new Capitol at Frankfort was dedicated Thursday with appropriate ceremonies. A fine picture of the splendid structure, with an interesting account of the proceedings attending the dedication will be found on page six of this issue of the NEWS.

Kentucky A Liberal Donor.

Of 160 contributing units which donated $75,000 to the World's Sunday school Convention at its close at Washington, Kentucky gave $1,500 in round numbers. The average of each contributing unit was about $470, which makes Kentucky one of the most liberal donors.

The 160 contributions were made from all over the United States and Territories, the Canadian provinces, the States of Mexico and fifty-one nations abroad.

J. Schreve Durham, international superintendent of visitation, a Kentuckian, said that the addresses during the convention of Deam W. T. Capers, of Lexington, and Dr. B. H. Dement, of Louisville, were among the most noteworthy delivered.

Roadmaster McGuire Hurt.

Last Monday C. and O. Roadmaster James McGuire sustained a serious injury to his right eye. He was using a hammer while assisting in some work near Whitehouse, and while so engaged a sharp piece of steel entered his eye. Realizing the gravity of the case he telegraphed his condition to the Superintendent who ordered a special train to carry McGuire to Huntington for aid. It was thought that the sight of the eye would be lost, but on the following morning Mr. McGuire could distinguish the light through the injured member. He is now being treated in Cincinnati and has hope that his sight may not be impaired.

Two Mile to the Front.

The Lucasville team with McGuire in the box, easily beat the Nonpareils of Portsmouth at the Lucasville fair grounds Sunday afternoon by the score of 11 to 9. The visitors were outclassed at every stage, but McGuire's clumsy pitching was the chief cause of the downfall.—Portsmouth Times.

The McGuire referred to in this item is "Big Dick" McGuire, from the waters of Two Mile. Give him a chance and our boys will be heard from.

Should Be Stopped.

Some children seem to have acquired the habit of marking houses and other buildings, as they pass by, with chalk and colored pencils, and they also sometimes use sticks and sharp knives to mark the surface of weatherboarding, siding and fences. This habit is very annoying to property owners and should be stopped. Then there is a law prohibiting it, which provides arrest and fine for its violation and the law should be enforced.

New Schedule.

A new time table went into effect on the C. and O. railway last Sunday. The changes in the arrival and departure of Louisa trains are scarcely discernible. The morning train from Ashland arrives one minute later; this is all the change. This train leaves Ashland at 6:15 instead of 6:00 as formerly.

Generally Observed.

Decoration Day was very generally observed by our citizens. The stores were not closed, but a large number spent the day on Pine Hill and elsewhere where kindred friends were buried. Very little business was done in town. The stores were closed, and the quiet Sabbath like and marked.

Takes a Two-Cent Stamp.

It is not a ruling, but a law of the postoffice department that a two-cent stamp must be placed on letters having writing in them and which are not "drop" letters. Many are overlooking this and their letters may not be delivered.

Nursing a Sore Knee.

While toying the ball with his young nephews last Monday George R. Burgess dislocated the cap of his right knee. The injury causes a limp but is not serious.

His body was riddled with bullets and he was unable to crawl out of range of the leaden hail.

The expensiveness of running for Governor in Alabama is indicated in the sworn statement of H. S. D. Mollary, defeated State-wide prohibitionist before the May 2 Democratic primary that it cost him $19,991.03, more than two years' pay by $991.30. This does not take in loss of time, services contributed by friends or contributions from any other source, if there be any.

Near Lebanon, Tenn., W. R. Sudders, a well-to-do farmer, was slain by his son, Salom, who shot his father through the heart after being himself dangerously stabbed. The elder Sudders' mind had recently become affected and his sons met to decide what to do with him.

The father suddenly rushed among them with pistol and knife, first attacking Salom and then Robert, another son. A second attack was made on Salom, who then fired.

The total increase that the State Board of Equalization put on all the property in the State that it has been equalizing the past three months, amounts to $64,000,000 and is the biggest increase ever put on by any board since the board was established. This $64,000,000 will bring to the State $320,000 more in taxes than last year.

Because the President exceeded his traveling expense allowance of $25,000 voted by Congress for the present fiscal year and the Committee on Appropriations sought to meet the deficiency by making the appropriation for next year "immediately available" the House was thrown into lively debate. The point of order made by Mr. Macon against the words "immediately available" was sustained and those words were stricken from the bill so that the appropriation cannot be used until after July 1.

Glenn H. Curtiss flew from Albany to New York Sunday in an aeroplane, winning the $10,000 prize offered by the New York World. He covered the distance of 137 miles in two hours and thirty-two minutes and came to the earth as calmly and lightly as a pigeon. Curtiss' average speed for the distance was 54.06 miles an hour and surpassed any record ever made by an aeroplane in a long-distance flight. His feat, perhaps, eclipsed any flight ever made by man in a heavier-than-air machine.

The Republican Office Holders Trust in the Ninth Congressional District are loudly proclaiming the sure renomination of Congressman Bennett. It's a cold day if the Office Holders Trust fails to control convention, and it is believed they will surely put Mr. Bennett over the plate once more. That is just what the Democrats want. Among the old papers of P. S. Dudley, deceased, is one which is quite a relic of the ancient regime. It is as follows:

"Received of P. S. Dudley one thousand dollars for a negro girl named Emily which I warrant sound and healthy and a slave for life. June 20th, 1857.

Hiram Wallingford." This was the common form of giving a bill of sale in those days, but the warrant of being a slave for life did not hold good unless the girl died before the emancipation of the slaves, but the courts would no doubt have held that the purchaser could not recover from the seller on the failure of warranty.

The editor sometimes goes fishing in the waters of the North Fork of Triplet and sometimes catches some good pike, but he has never been so fortunate or unfortunate as to hook one as big as this one told about by Messrs. Morgan, Clayton and Davis to the Morehead Citizen, which tells it thus:

"Ben Morgan told us that Geo. Clayton told him that John Davis told him that somebody else told him that while crossing the Hi Roberts ford on North Fork of Triplet the other day with a mule team a large fish, supposed to be a pike, was floundering on the shoal and knocked the feet of one mule from under it, causing it to fall and become entangled in the harness and it was necessary to take harness off to keep the mule from drowning." Henderson, Ky., May 26.—Mrs. Zorah J. Eblen shot and killed her husband, Bainbridge W. Eblen, aged 44, a prominent liveryman and stockman, and wounded a negro cook, Mattie White, in the dining-room of the Eblen home about six o'clock this morning.

Eblen was shot three times. One bullet entered his breast, passed through his heart and kidneys and fell on the floor. The other bullets struck him in the back, one near his right shoulder and the other near his spinal cord, and he died instantly.

The negro woman was shot in the right hip, right arm, left shoulder and left cheek. It is believed she will recover.

Mrs. Eblen made a statement to the jailer, stating she fired three shots at Eblen and two at the negro woman, and then beat the latter over the head with the butt of the pistol.

At a meeting of the Republican senatorial committee for the sixth District, held in this city on last Monday, a call was issued for a convention to be held in this city on Saturday, July 16, at two o'clock in the afternoon.

Hon. W. Burbridge Payne, circuit clerk of McDowell county presided over the meeting as chairman and Mr. M. Z. White acted as secretary pro tem. Mr. White presented Williamson's claims as a convention city.

The basis of representation was fixed at one delegate for each one hundred votes cast for William H. Taft at the general election in November. Mingo's vote was 2065 and we will have 21 delegates in the convention. McDowell cast 6167 votes for Taft and is entitled to 62 delegates. Wyoming has 13 delegates and Wayne 24.

The vote of McDowell county is greater than the combined vote of the other three counties in the district and when the McDowell delegates were selected on last Saturday they were instructed to vote as a unit.

The delegates to represent Mingo county in the senatorial convention will be selected in the big mass meeting to be held in the court house on Monday, the 6th day of June. This meeting will be largely attended.—Mingo Republican.

BUCHANAN.

The World's Sunday School Convention that met at Washington, D. C., we believe was the greatest meeting that ever assembled on the American continent. As we stood in that great convention hall and beheld the representatives from all the states of our country, represented by a red badge, and saw the representatives from all the foreign countries who wore a blue badge, and as they stood on the great platform and sang songs that thrilled every soul present and one after another told the wonderful story of the cross and how the light was breaking into those foreign countries where the gloom of the night of unbelief has prevailed so long, and how the Son of Righteousness has appeared with healing in His wings, at how our missionaries have penetrated the dark continents and established Christian schools, Sunday schools and churches. As we listened to the stories of those people who have been brought from darkness to light and how indifferent we had been, how little we were doing to push the great Sunday school cause into every land on the earth. I never beheld before so great a people that were so thoroughly employed in the cause of the Master. The same spirit prevailed the people. There was no north, south, east or west. The representative from Maine was as congenial as those from California, and those from foreign fields seemed to impart a new inspiration to us as we shook their hands. Truly eternity will tell the story of that great convention. J. F. HATTEN.

Hay Fever

A LETTER FROM WASHINGTON.

Twisp, Wash., May 21, 1910.

Dear Editor:

I would like to say through your worthy paper to my many friends and relatives in Eastern Kentucky that after being in thirty-six states searching for a place which thoroughly satisfied me, I have found it in the Methon Valley, Eastern Washington, and in Okonogan county.

This is the country where you can raise corn from thirty to forty bushels to the acre. This is the country where you can raise wheat and oats, and this is the country where the best fruit is grown and the longest keepers. You can also grow watermelons, cantalopes, pumpkins, squash, beans, potatoes,—every thing you plant produces in abundance. There are more available homesteads here in this part yet, and should any of my friends desire to come, the quicker they come the better for them.

There is a railroad in thirty miles of here and of course it is but a question of time until the railroad will go through here, then you won't be able to get any land here less than $200 up to $500 per acre.

I was one of the lucky ones to draw a No. in the Flathead Reservation in Montana. I went over there, looked over the reservation, but it did not suit me, so I headed for Methon Valley.

I came here, bought out a fellow's relinquishments for $125 and I would not take $2,000 for my relinquishment.

I am close to school, only one mile and half from town, and the county road runs through the place.

My address, is Twisp, Washington.

Yours very truly,

J. H. WHEELER.

Ends Winter's Trouble.

To many, winter is a season of trouble. The frost bites noses and fingers, chapped hands and lips, chilblains, cold sores, red and rough skins, prove this. But such troubles fly before Bucklen's Arnica Salve. A trial convinces. Greatest healer of Burns, Boils, Piles, Cuts, Sores, Eczema and Sprains. Only 25c at A. M. Hughes'.

OBITUARY.

On Thursday morning, May the 12th, the spirit of Mrs. Ellis Stuart took its flight to the God that gave it. Mrs. Stuart was about fifty years of age and the mother of seven children now living, four girls and three boys. She was a dutiful mother, a loving wife and a kind neighbor in the noblest sense, loved and respected by her many friends, therefore who shall measure the loss, or who will attempt to fathom the depth of sadness that lingers in that home? The goodness of her life and the memory of her kindness will abide with us, and we hope will help to better our fleeting days. She had such an interest in the soul's welfare of her children that she would leave her home the coldest stormy nights of last winter and visit the house of God where she could rejoice with her children and the people of God.

Sister Victory Stuart was laid under the sod of Fallsburg hill, amid nature's magnificence, where her body will be resolved to dust.

God bless the heart broken husband, children, relatives, friends and neighbors of sister Stuart.

Adam Harmon.

Reasons for Pruning Trees.

The Colorado Experiment Station has advanced correct ideas about pruning as follows:

Prune to modify the vigor of the tree, giving it less to support, allowing the sap to flow into the remaining branches.

Prune to produce larger fruit than could produce if the vital forces of the tree were divided among a greater number of branches.

Prune to give the trees desirable shape.

Prune in summer to change the trees from wood-bearing to fruit-bearing.

If the tree bears too much fruit prune heavily in winter, so that the tendency will be to wood growth.

Prune to remove surplus parts for injured parts, or parts that interfere with each other.

Prune to facilitate spraying or harvesting.

Prune to facilitate tillage.

Rules for Feeding Dairy Cows

Prof. Eckles, of the Missouri Agricultural College, gives the following rules for feeding a dairy cow:

Feed all the roughage she will eat up clean at all times.

Feed one pound of grain per day for each pound of butter-fat produced by the cow per week.

Feed all the cow will take without gaining in weight.

We are authorized to announce
MORDECAI WILLIAMS, of Boyd county, as a candidate for Congress, Ninth District, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

We are authorized to announce
W. J. FIELDS,
of Carter county, as a candidate for Congress, subject to the action of the Democratic party of the Ninth District.

I desire to announce myself as a candidate for the Democratic Nomination for Congress from the Ninth Congressional District. I was a candidate for the nomination before the convention two years ago which nominated James N. Kehoe, and following that convention, it was almost unanimously conceded that I was the logical candidate and entitled to the nomination at the hands of my party this year. I have always been a zealous party worker, and if nominated, will conduct an energetic campaign for election and if elected will devote all my time, energies and talent to the office and diligently work for the interests of the people of my District.

A respectfully solicit support for this nomination.

According to Pension Bureau authorities, there were approximately 50,000 fewer Union Veterans living to participate in Monday's observances than there were on Memorial Day last year.

James B. McCreary Monday announced that, while not a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Governor, he will accept in case his party so honors him. At the same time he pledged his support to the choice of the nominating convention.

What is probably the most unique church ever built was erected Monday at Peoria, Ill., by 190 members of the congregation of the Central Christian church. Work was started at 8 o'clock in the morning and services were held in the completed edifice in the evening.

The Hon. John W. Langley, Representative in Congress from the Tenth district, received the instructions of the delegates from every county in his district in mass conventions held Saturday. He will be re-nominated for Congress when the district convention meets at Mt.
Sterling, June 3.

Shivers have been chasing themselves up and down the spinal columns of members who must face serious contests in their States or districts if they come back to the next Congress, ever since John Dwight, the Republican whip of the House of Representatives, issued his prediction that the present session would not adjourn July 15.

The State Board of Equalization has raised the assessment of 80 many counties in Kentucky above what they were last year that the revenue of the State will be increased $374,000. The raising was for the very purpose that has been obtained, and not to equalize the assessment between the counties.
Realizing that the present Republican state administration was in hard lines for money, and that the warrants on the State Treasurer were held up for lack of funds, the word was evidently tipped to the Republican State Board of Equalization that it must come to rescue and usurp the function of the Legislature in increasing taxation by increasing assessment.

ANSWER IT HONESTLY.

Are the Statements of Louisa Citizens Not More Reliable Than Those of Utter Strangers?

This is a vital question.
It is fraught with interest to Louisa.

It permits of only one answer.
It cannot be evaded or ignored.
A Louisa citizen speaks here.

A citizen's statement is reliable.
An utter stranger's doubtful.

Home proof is the best proof.

KY. NORMAL COLLEGE STUDENT

Graduates From a Southern University With Degree of L.
L. B.

Salyersville, Ky., May 24.—The University of Chattanooga, Chattanooga, Tenn., will confer upon Prof.
J. S. Penix, of this city, the degree of Bachelor of Laws at the annual Commencement of that institution, May 31, 1910. He is a member of the largest class that the Law Department of the University has graduated and they come from all parts of this nation—even from foreign lands.

Mr. Penix was left when a mere boy without a father, but with a well determined purpose to get an education, but was much hindered by the aid he felt that he ought to give his mother and younger brothers and sisters. However, he managed to spend three years in Kentucky Normal College and one year in Berea College and now has completed his law course in the university. He has many loyal friends in different states and they will all hail his triumph as a tribute to the power of faith. Whatever he has so far accomplished as a student, teacher, Sunday school and literary leader or in the law is, in a large measure, due to his own efforts as he has been unaided in his struggles for an education.

He has words of the warmest praise for the Sunny South and says that when this nation is redeemed from moral crookedness it will be largely through the influence and the work of the South. And that the South is now building up a fine school system and that material wealth is being touched as never before and her unvalued stores of minerals are now constantly pouring into the channels of trade-enriching the world; that her fields are being made fertile and productive and her people happy.

His friends and neighbors, loving him as they do for the splendid life he has led, the noble character he has built and the good examples he is setting for Christian character building, stand with outstretched arm to welcome him to the land of his birth—"The Old Kentucky Home."

GREATER MEETING AT WASHINGTON.

Sunday School idea and organization.

The Convention sessions were too numerous to be mentioned in detail. On Sunday afternoon there were twenty-five, and on Sunday night over a hundred, all with regularly appointed speakers from a wide area. Convention hall holds six thousand persons and it was packed mornings as well as evenings, and the simultaneous session often overflowed also. Frequently the Convention broke up into sectional conferences. Especially notable among the speeches were those of President Taft, Dr. S. Parkes Cadman, of Brooklyn; Hon. John Wanamaker, Rev. S. M. Zwemer, of Arabia; Bishop J. C. Hartzell, of Africa; Mr. Robert E. Speer, and
Dr. J. Wilbur Chapman. Rev. Dr. F.
B. Meyer, of London, who presided had a profound influence upon the Convention.

The retiring Chairman of the Executive Committee, Dr. George W.
Bailey, was elected President for the next three years, and Mr. E.
K. Warren, of Three Oaks, Mich.,
Executive Chairman.

Kentucky's splendid New Statehouse Dedicated With Imposing Ceremonies

GOVERNOR'S STATE RECEPTION ROOM.

MAIN CORRIDOR.

PERSPECTIVE VIEW OF KENTUCKY'S NEW CAPITOL.

FRANKFORT, June 2. — Thousands of people at the ceremonies incident to the dedication of Kentucky's new statehouse today witnessed the official culmination of a fight of more than a hundred years on the part of Frankfort to retain the seat of government and on the part of other cities in the state to have the capital removed from Frankfort.

The citizens of Frankfort in that hundred years' fight have donated thousands of dollars toward paying for the first three or four statehouses and many more thousands in entertaining various legislatures in the effort to retain the seat of government here. Until the present splendid structure was actually built the Frankfort people have felt uneasy lest something might happen to rob them of the statehouse. The dedication of the new building has put all doubts to rest.

Thousands of people from practically every county in the old commonwealth journeyed to Frankfort this week to witness or take part in the formal ceremonies. More than 700 schoolgirls came on one train from Louisville and sang a song as a part of the dedication program.

A big temporary platform was erected immediately in front of the capitol building, and from this stand United States Senator W. O. Bradley delivered his eloquent speech as the orator of the day.

Mayor Polsgrove of Frankfort delivered the address of welcome, and Governor Willson made a speech preceding that delivered by Senator Bradley. Several hundred former students of the Kentucky Military Institute, which school flourished four miles from Frankfort for more than fifty years, were in attendance, having decided to hold a reunion here on dedication day.

Official Program.

Following is the official program as arranged by the dedication committee and carried out:

- (a) 8 o'clock a. m.—Firing signal gun at arsenal.
- (b) 9 o'clock a. m.—Detachments of the reception and transportation committees, under their leaders, to assemble at their respective posts of assignment to receive and care for visitors.
- (c) 10 o'clock a. m.—Decorations of graves of Rev. J. McClusky Blinn in Frankfort cemetery by committee of the Frankfort Business Men's club, as provided by resolution of that body in recognition of his loyalty to and his exertions in the retention of the seat of government at Frankfort.
- (d) 12 o'clock m.—Exercises at the capitol.

1. Salute fired from Arsenal hill.
2. Music by band.
3. Invocation by Bishop Lewis W. Burton.
4. Welcome on behalf of city by Mayor J. H. Polsgrove.
5. Song, "America," by Louisville Girls' High school.
6. Address by Governor Augustus E. Willson.
7. Music by band.

8. Address by Senator William O. Bradley.
 9. Song by Louisville Girls' High school.
 10. Benediction by Father T. S. Major.
 11. "Dixie" by band.
- In the afternoon, band concert in the capitol building, when the building and offices therein were opened for inspection of visitors.
- From 7:30 o'clock p. m. to 11 o'clock p. m. state reception in the capitol building, with old fashioned Kentucky house warming.

Legislation For New Capitol.

When the legislature of 1904 met the state of Kentucky was practically out of debt, and a bill appropriating $1,000,000 for the erecting of a new state capitol passed that body with but one dissenting vote. A commission to carry out the provisions of the act was appointed, consisting of the following: J. C. W. Beckham, governor; H. V. McChesney, secretary of state; S. W. Hager, state auditor; N. B. Hays, attorney general, and H. M. Bosworth, state treasurer. At the first meeting Henry B. Ware was elected secretary to the board.

It was provided by the act above referred to that the new building was to be erected upon the site of the old, but when the architect, Frank M. Andrews of Dayton, O., presented his plans it was found that the old location was not suitable for the proposed structure. A special session of the legislature was called to meet in January, 1905, to consider the matter, and the location was changed to South Frankfort on the grounds known as the "Hunt place," containing thirty acres, for which the state paid $40,000.

A contract was let to the General Supply and Construction company of New York for the erection of the building. On Aug. 14, 1905, ground was broken for the foundation, and on June 16, 1906, the cornerstone was laid.

Incident to the change of administration, which occurred on Jan. 1, 1908, the following commissioners took charge of affairs: Augustus E. Willson, governor; Ben L. Bruner, secretary of state; Frank P. James, state auditor; James Breathitt, attorney general, and Edwin Farler, state treasurer, and thereupon Captain Edward M. Drane was elected secretary to the board.

Under this new management contracts were let for the completion and furnishing of the building, and on July 26, 1909, the building was first occupied by Secretary of State Ben L. Bruner.

New Statehouse Described.

The face work of the building is constructed of limestone from Bedford, Ind., with a Vermont granite base, and rests upon a concrete foundation. It is surrounded by an architectural stone terrace, with concrete floor, covered with vitrified brick. The outer walls of the building are ornamented with Ionic columns, thirty-two on the front, four on either end and thirty on the back, all of which are monoliths, twenty-seven feet ten inches tall, weighing about eighteen tons each.

The pediment over the north entrance, designed by Charles Henry Niehaus of New York and executed by the Austrian sculptor Peter Rossak for the sum of $40,000, is richly sculptured and adds greatly to the appearance of the building. The heroic figure in the center represents Kentucky standing in front of a chair of state. Her immediate attendants are Progress, who is seen kneeling at her feet pushing a winged wheel; History, on the right, is recording the events of the richly peopled past; Plenty stands in the left background with a cornucopia overflowing with fruit and grain; Art is represented on the right by a female figure with palette and brush in her hand; Labor, in the rear, facing Art, by a male figure stripped to the waist and grasping a hammer. An agricultural aspect is introduced by groups of cattle and horses, with male and female figures wreathing the creatures as in festive array. The idea of the statue is portrayed by the grouping, and its indivisibility and stability are shown in the state seal, which is indicated at the left end by a group of two figures tying fasces, signifying strength and unity. At the other end is an Indian group of two figures, suggestive of pioneer days, crouching with fear and watching the approach of civilization.

The dimensions of the new statehouse are as follows: Total length from east to west, 403 feet; depth of central part of building through the vestibule, 186 feet; diameter of rotunda, 57 feet; height of building from terrace floor to top of parapet wall, 80 feet; height of dome from terrace floor to top of lantern, 212 feet; width of agricultural terrace at the front and rear of the wings of the building and at the east end, 30 feet; width of agricultural terrace at the west end and rear of central pavilion, 40 feet; length of pediment from east to west, 74 feet; height of pediment from base line to apex, 25 feet.

The following items represent the total cost of the building: Amount expended for building proper, $1,180,434.80; amount expended for grounds, $63,793; amount expended for furniture, carpets, marble floors, mural paintings, etc., $141,881; amount expended for metal file cases, vaults, etc., $45,188; amount expended for power plant, $60,000; amount expended for enrichment of pediment, $40,000; amount expended for heating, lighting and electrical fixtures, $108,703.20; amount expended for terrace and landscaping, $190,000, making a grand total of $1,890,000.

UTAH HAS REMARKABLE LAW.

State Where Condemned Man May Choose Method Death Penalty.

Utah is the only State in the Union where a man may be shot instead of hanged for the crime of murder under civil law, says the Boston Globe.

An adherence to the old scriptural idea of blood atonement on the part of the Mormons in Utah has given this State a unique law by which a man condemned to die for taking the life of another may choose between being shot or being hanged.

The provision of the Utah statutes regarding election as to a criminal's manner of death is as follows:

"The punishment of death must be inflicted by hanging the defendant; by the neck until he is dead, or by shooting him, at his election. If the defendant neglect or refuse to make the election the court at the time of rendering the sentence must declare the mode and enter the same as a part of this judgment."

Eleven legal executions have taken place in Utah since it was admitted as a Territory in 1890. All of these have been by shooting except one, since the condemned men on being given their choice naturally prefer shooting.

One of the most notable executions in this State was that of Peter Mortensen, who was shot November 20, 1903, for the murder of John Hay. The murder was a brutal one for the sake of robbery and the body of the victim was concealed in a neglected pasture. The death penalty was inflicted on Mortensen in the yard of the State prison of Utah, in Salt Lake City.

A description of an execution by an eye-witness will give a good idea of the method of carrying out the death sentence in Utah.

"The death chair was placed against the east wall of the prison inclosure, facing a driveway. It was a common office chair with arms. It was set upon a platform about four feet square constructed of new boards. Behind the platform was a box-like structure, five feet high and two feet thick. This was filled with dirt, its purpose being to catch the bullets after they had passed through the prisoner's body, to prevent their glancing from the wall and endangering the lives of spectators.

"Just opposite the death chair, across the driveway, which is fifty feet wide is a low brick building, about 100 feet long north and south, used as the prison blacksmith shop. Double doors opened on the driveway. These were pushed aside on the day of the execution and a curtain of denim hung in their place. At the height had been cut at regular intervals, and a foot or so higher other holes of irregular shape appeared. Behind this curtain were stationed the executioners. Their identity was known only to the warden of penitentiary, the Sheriff and a few trusted deputies.

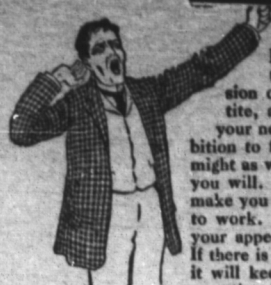

"A wire at the north end of the blacksmith shop, extending to the opposite wall, shut off the spectators. Just outside of the wire were tables and chairs for newspaper reporters.

"Before the arms of the prisoner were strapped to the chair with new leather straps he shook hands all around with the guards, but he could not see whose hand he was shaking. His ankles were then strapped to the lower rounds of the chair.

"The time of the strapping seemed interminable. After a final rest test of the straps to see that they were securely fastened, the officials retreated to the south, leaving an open space between the chair and blacksmith shop, with its suggestive black holes.

"Mortensen's head alone was free. It was slightly inclined forward. He could not see the curtain ambush with its threatening black apertures. Perhaps his strained hearing may have caught the sound as the black-nosed rifles—five of them—were pushed through the openings and leveled at the white piece of paper pinned over the doomed man's heart. The rifles had been loaded by the Sheriff, four of them with fatal bullets and the fifth with a blank cartridge. The executioners did not know which gun carried the blank load, so that none would know whether or not he had helped carry the death sentence into effect.

"Blinded and helpless, the prisoner must have awaited in awful suspense the winged death. No one moved or spoke. The Sheriff gave the firing signal. A sudden crash came, accompanied by jets of flame from the rifle muzzles. No smoke appeared, as smokeless powder was used. A physician hastening to the prisoner's side found that his pulse had ceased."

IN MEMORY.

Death has visited the home of Jesse Adkins and taken from him his darling wife, Rebecca, on May 4, 1910. Her death was unexpected, and the last words was, "I'll soon be in glory."

She will be missed by all who knew her. She was a kind and loving mother. She was 49 years, 5 months and 5 days old. Her maiden name was Rebecca Whitley. She had sweet communion with Jesse and met loved ones who were waiting to welcome her home to rest in the Kingdom of God. A husband and six children, Dixie, Ruby, Herbert, Hester, Martha and William, are left to mourn the loss of their mother. Her many friends will long remember her. Thou didst give and thou hast taken. Blessed Lord, thy will be done.

Clothes; like men themselves must have character.

The absence of character in clothes is more noticeable (outwardly) than it is in man.

Character in clothes is composed of expert cutting, designing, good tailoring and exact styling. Fully half of the clothes that are sold today are minus some of these features—because enough men fail to demand the better kind and accept a cheaper substitute.

You can buy the best clothes made in America at this store. You can pay anywhere from $20, $22, $25, $28, $30 and on up to $35 and at either price obtain the best all round suit possible to produce. Investigate before you buy that suit.

Our policy today in regard to cloth is the same as has been maintained by us throughout our business career—not to buy or sell any cotton mixed clothes. A policy which protects you as well as ourselves.

Negligee and pleated shirts, $1.00 to $3.50.

Straw hats, $1.50 to $6.00; Panamas, $6.00 to $15.

Underwear, $1.00 to $7.00 the suit.

IN MEMORY OF MISS CORA HUGHES.

The grim reaper, Death, is again abroad in our community and has taken from us our kind and loving little friend, Cora Hughes. Cora was born March 10, 1894, died May 10, 1910, age 16 years, two months and 12 days. She lived a happy and contented life, until some months ago, when she was stricken with that dreadful disease, consumption, and during that time Cora knew not what rest was. But she did not complain. She said just before the end came that she knew she must die, and God's will be done. She had no fear. While to some of us death is a dark and fearful thing, to Cora it only meant rest, for she had Christ as her guide. Cora was happily converted to the religion of our Lord Jesus Christ awhile before she died, and from that time on she prayed for God to release her from her suffering and take her home. She was always so kind and gentle, and will be missed not only at home, but at Sunday school and other places. Cora was a dutiful daughter and loving sister. She leaves a dear father and two brothers, Charley and Bert, to mourn their loss. Weep not for Cora, but prepare to meet her in heaven, where our toils and cares will cease.

A LETTER FROM KANSAS

Hoisington, Kan. May 28.
Here I come, after a long delay and plenty of work to keep two people busy.

The real busy season is just closing now, since the schools are just winding up their work. From some cause I am president of the Board of Education and have been kept busier for the last few weeks than a cranberry merchant.

The eighth grade graduating exercises took place on the 19th inst. and on the program was this: "Address and presentation of Diplomas by the president of the Board of Education, Dr. T. C. Burton."

Now don't that have a ring to it?—high sounding, and I sometimes wonder if President Taft feels larger than I do. Then on 23rd inst. was class day exercises and a banquet by the "Juniors" to the "Seniors." On that program was a toast, "How to preserve harmony in schools, by the President of the Board."

Then on Thursday night, the 26th inst. Commencement High school graduates and the last on program was an address and presentation of diplomas by the President of the Board of Education. So I got it again, but the hard thing to swallow was they placed me for an address, following Prof. D. C. Roger, professor of Psychology from the Kansas University and I stood up and took my medicine like a man, and the U. B. minister said that I made that professor look like 30 cents with a hole in it, so I must have done admirably.

I have just finished up signing warrants or checks in full payment of teachers' salaries, so I thought I would just write and tell the NEWS how I was imposed upon. If this school business had lasted a little longer and I had kept up my addresses in all their meetings, I would soon have drifted into politics, and then there would have been a demand for me out here in Kansas.

We are enjoying an ideal climate and the finest weather you could imagine at this time. Wheat is coming to the front since all this rain and we will have a pretty good crop after all. The harvesters are pitching their tents in the suburbs of the city now, preparatory to work in the wheat fields.

Lafe Carter, who came here on the 15th inst. from Carter county, is engaged to Mr. Campbell, a wealthy farmer just south of town, and he is giving entire satisfaction.

Mont Rose is working as supply man at the railroad shops and his brother, Millard, is in Smith and Krugs' large grocery store. The boys are all making good and seem to be giving good service. I am the only weak one, I suppose, from the east in this town. We had a Farmers' Picnic last Wednesday in the park, and there were 128 automobiles on the ground. Most of them belonging to farmers, so you can see whether our farmers are prosperous or not. They are the happiest people in the world, and as independent as a king.

The acreage of corn is greater than ever before in the state, from the fact that quite a little wheat that was thought to be dead, was listed and planted to corn, which would have made no doubt, fairly good wheat if it had been let alone. Stock is high, and all kinds of food stuffs are way up.

We are now merging into a city of the second class. When I came here six years ago, our town was about 950 people. In 1900 the census gave us a little over 700 population, so this year it gave us a population of 2135, so that is no bad increase, and we have had no boom either, but a steady growth.

The Missouri Pacific R. R. will move its main shops here from Osawatimie, and we will rebuild our round house, so that will give the town a send off. There are no empty houses in the city, and new ones being built every day. A fine I. O. O. F. Hall and hotel now being built at corner of Main and Second streets. There are more than a dozen residences under construction.

Everything in the west seems to be coming up, notwithstanding Halley's comet has just been here and is now taking its leave. I am told that people over in Elliott county, Ky., actually burrowed into the earth, preparing a place of safety for the comet on the 18th inst.

I would like to see some of your old backwoods farmers out here looking over our great, rich, prairie country this summer. Bascom Sturgill came out this spring and purchased 640 acres and was delighted with the country. I would like to see others using that kind of judgment.

Now a kind adieu, will come again,
Yours for Kansas,
ROOSEVELT.

KENTUCKY NEIGHBORS.

A stock barn, two horses and several tons of hay belonging to Mrs. Nannie Murphy, of Grassy, Morgan county, were destroyed by fire on 24th ult. The loss $1,000 with no insurance. Incendiarism is suspected.

John Nichols of Riverton shot and broke the wing of a large bald eagle Thursday morning. It measured 6 1-2 feet from tip to tip. The bird has been seen by R. C. Jackson and others for a year or more and was shot at Jackson's place. —Greenup Republican.

Gordon Yates, of Ohio, and Miss Maggie Simpson, of Martha, W. Va. were married Saturday at the office of County Clerk Hughes, of Catlettsburg, the Rev. C. B. Wellman, of the Hampton City Baptist church, having officiated in the ceremony. The couple were accompanied by Walter Mays, a neighbor of the bride's parents.

Judge George Fisher, of West Point, Ky., aged ninety-three years says he saw Halley's comet for the second time on May 20, about eight o'clock. When eighteen years old he saw the comet and says that it seemed far more brilliant and beautiful than now. The star was more plainly visible, and the tail much longer than it appeared this time.

Huntington is to have a plant soon where railroad ties of the inferior grades of wood will be soaked in creosote. The ties thus doctored, it is said, will then be of better quality than those now made of the accepted grades of wood, and will last for twenty years. White oak and chestnut oak timber have principally been used in making ties heretofore, but now most any old thing can be doctored into a tie.

The horribly mutilated body of little Alma Kellner, of Louisville, who has been missing since last December, was discovered half buried in a cellar under St. John's parochial school Monday morning while the cellar was being cleaned out. Monday night the wife of a former janitor of the school was arrested and charged with being an accessory to murder. Her husband is being sought to tell what he knows of the child's death.

Will Hutchinson, of Huntington, reports that the Osborne store at East Lynne, was robbed the other night and his blood hounds were sent up there to trail the robbers. He received word that they had been successful in the work and that the burglars had turned out to be local characters in the neighborhood, but failed to give the names.

Hutchinson says he placed an order for another pair of the dogs which will give him seven in all and that his present number have more work than they are able to do.

William Jackson and a girl named Jessie Simpson were drowned at Ashland last Monday. It seems that Jackson, his 8-years-old son, Jack, Susie and Jessie Simpson, and Ruth Murphy took their dinners and went to the river in the forenoon, intending to spend the Decoration Day holiday in fishing. At the time of the tragedy Jackson was standing on the outer edge of a timber raft, pulling in a throw line and examining the hooks, when he slipped on the wet logs and fell into the river.

Jessie Simpson, who was nearest him, the others being some little distance away on the raft, begun screaming, and as Jackson came up the first time, she reached out both hands to him, which he grasped with his hands. However, the girl's efforts to pull the man from the water proved ineffectual, and in the struggle the girl fell or was pulled into the river, and both went down. When they came up the second time, Jackson and the girl had hold of each other, but the third time only Jackson was seen.

Pikeville, May 30.—Joe Marrs, oldest son of Hon. J. P. Marrs and wife, and the junior member of the legal firm of Marrs & Marrs, passed away last midnight at his home on College street, after an illness of only a few days. He leaves a wife, who was Miss Anna Ford and two children—Buford, aged 12, and Mary Alice, 10 years—a father, mother, and one brother, Grover. His death is quite a shock to his family and friends, and is a matter of deep regret.

Dr. Z. A. Thompson has returned from Lexington, where he went from Ashland where he attended the State Association of Railway Surgeons. He visited Mrs. Thompson, at Lexington, whom he found greatly improved. He spent a day with her at the celebrated Haggin farm, near Lexington, and he is greatly encouraged by the wonderful improvement in her mental condition. —Pikeville Correspondent to Ashland Independent.

For Twenty-Six Years

Mrs. Lamaster, of Kentucky, Suffered with internal Catarrh and was Finally Relieved by Peruna.

MRS. W. W. LAMASTER.

"I SUFFERED for twenty-six years with bladder and kidney trouble, and being advised to give Peruna a trial, I did so, and am thankful to say that eight bottles of Peruna and three bottles of Manalin entirely cured me of that trouble, and I am as well as ever."—Mrs. W. W. Lamaster, 3127 McAtee Ave., Louisville, Ky.

Catarrh Causes Kidney Disease.

Catarrh is a frequent cause of kidney disease. The pelvis of the kidneys, as well as the tubules, is lined with mucous membrane, and is therefore subject to catarrhal congestion. Sometimes the catarrh is so slight as to cause no attention. Other times it leads up to very serious conditions.

Any remedy capable of mitigating the catarrh is a much more rational treatment than to give palliatives that only relieve the patient of one or more disagreeable symptoms.

It is claimed for Peruna that it is an internal systemic catarrh remedy, and reaches the catarrh in whatever organ it happens to be located.

"I was cured of a severe attack of inflammation of the bowels by taking Peruna. I am glad to recommend Peruna to any one."—Mrs. J. J. Cross, 608 Water St., San Antonio, Texas.
